COLLECTOR HELPS IN RESCUE

Master Sgt. Warren M. Berger with other rescuers helped to get Capt. Robert M. Almes from his crashed flaming plane at McGuire Air Force Base. Heroic Capt. Almes saved many from serious injury by piloting his disabled plane with engine on fire past military housing project in Wrightstown, New Jersey to a field near by, his condition was critical.

Sgt. Berger, one of the Flying Eagle's earlier subscribers spent many hours trading and discussing coins with Sgt. John Spadone, when the latter was stationed at the base. I frequently visited the base, but never had the opportunity of meeting Sgt. Berger.

salute to Sgt. Berger and the other rescuers.

DOUBLE EAGLES UNPOPULAR

As gold is being released by one country after another either as coins or bar stock there is now a tendency to sell the most common dates and condition of double-eagles at about the gold content value. In a speculators market it is good business to even sell them at a slight loss and buy proof sets instead, for as last years sets are now selling at for a fifty percent markup it is no mean investment in small or large quantities.

Gold in time of stress has always been used as a hedge for hard times and changes of governments for it has been in the past the one staple that is universally recognized as basis in value. Belgium, Switzerland, Mexico, Canada, England and where ever you look, gold may be had for less than the world market price. It does have stabilizing influence on home finances to be able to exchange one's currency for this solid financial bulwark and does prevent the flight of capital to more reliable exchanges.

The United States is now continuing gold coinage and a year or two here we too may soon see the gleam of new twenty-five and fifty dollar tokens.

ADOLPH MENJOU

Adolph Menjou, movie, stage and television star is an early subscriber to our journal. Adolph relates he has been a collector of coins since he was 12 years old, and still checks his pocket change for rare dates. A few years ago he had part of his collection auctioned off. It is known to have realized over $200,000. They must have been some beauties.

Incidentally, Mr. Menjou is known to be the best dressed man in the country and has recently completed his latest film, The Ambassador's Daughter, filmed in France. He stars as U. S. Senator, ironically I enjoyed seeing two of his revivals which he stars in on television, in the "King of the Turf" and "Turn About" two weeks ago.

A PEEK AT FUTURE PRICES COIN GARDEN

Here are a few of the prices realized from the March 27th auction of James Inc.

1936 proof set	$275.00
1950 proof set	43.50
1951 proof set	32.50
1952 proof set	17.50
1953 proof set	8.50
1954 proof set	5.65
1955 proof set	4.65

1 roll unc. 1955-p nickels	$6.55
1 roll each 1955 P-D-S	$7.00 a roll
1 roll 1952-s dimes	$25.00
1914-D cent B.U.	$105.00

an indication of prices to come. Approximately $120,000.00 was realized from this successful auction, a lot of coins in itself.

Reading an article on Botany it was interesting to note the number of plants and flowers having been designed on coins. A fast check found: wheat on the Lincoln cent, and $3.00 gold pcs. Corn and cotton on the 1857 cent pcs. The Laurel on $20. Gold and half dimes. Then we have the Pine tree Shilling, Palm, Mountain Pine, Yucca Tree, Cactus, Tobacco, and other forms of plants. Check your collection or even your change, how many can you come up with? Not only is the coin hobby interesting, it definitely is educational in a broad form.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir

Why do those who suppose to know something about collecting, continue to abuse the ethics of our hobby, by handling coins. This brings to mind the dealers and collectors who handle and sort B.U. rolls for freaks and gems and then sell the rolls as B.U. There is a difference between Brilliant Unc. and Unc. It is disappointing to know what you have purchase has been handle, I would appreciate a little article of this.

I realize the journal has no control of certain procedures. But I do believe the editor is striving to publish a good publication and should bare down on these fellows who have no respect for the ethics of the hobby.

In one case coins were bidded on and was successful the party was notified, but no word was heard from them and notices were ignored, which has kept me from selling my material. In another case coins were purchased and after handling same with finger marks returned them stating them to be unsatisfactory. I have spoken to others who share the same feelings and related incidents of auctions. Where items have been keep for weeks then returned as unsatisfactory. This involves time and money and consideration should be given to these facts. Let's continue to strengthen our hobby and improve our faults, so we may enjoy it. (Let's do unto others as we would have them do unto us.)

Editor's note: This article was rewritten by your editor from parts of letters received and through conversations. I am endeavoring to keep a wholesome publication and will discontinue any subscriptions and advertisements that use unethical methods, upon receiving sufficient facts and hearing both sides of dealings. Errors and misunderstandings are bound to happen, let's keep this to a minimum if not at all.

NOTICE

OUR STANDING ADVERTISING CLOSING DAY WILL BE THE 20th OF EACH MONTH. TO INSURE PUBLICATION OF YOUR AD SEND THEM IN EARLY. THANK YOU.

AUCTION INFORMATION

Realizing there may be a number of collectors and beginners interested in the procedure of bidding in an auction advertisement or maybe run one themselves to get rid of surplus or to realize cash. Here are most requirements and procedure.

Every auction has a closing date to accept bids. You list the Lot # (number) of the coin or material offered and enter the price you are willing to pay. You do not list the coins, only the lot number along side of it. The lot offer usually states the condition, quantity or anything else to describe the lot. Most auctions offer at least a three (3) day satisfactory refund. You are obligated to pay whatever price you offered even if a bit high. Although in case of an error the auctioneer should be notified. All coins should be as stated. Remittance should be forwarded as soon as notified of successful bid or upon receiving coins. Usually the successful bidder is required to pay the postage and insurance.

When advertising, material must be in stock at the time. Within 5 to 10 days of closing date you should be notified of any successful bids.

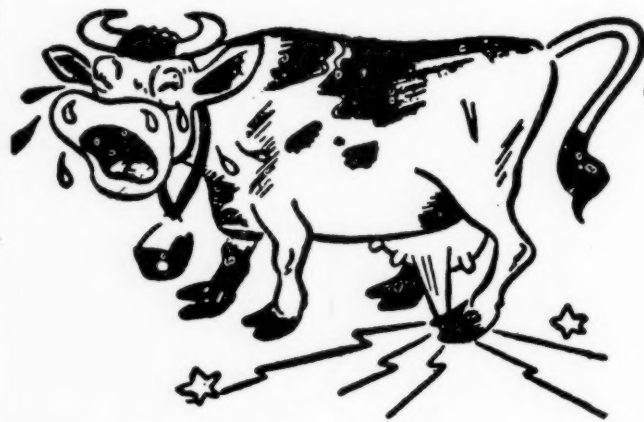

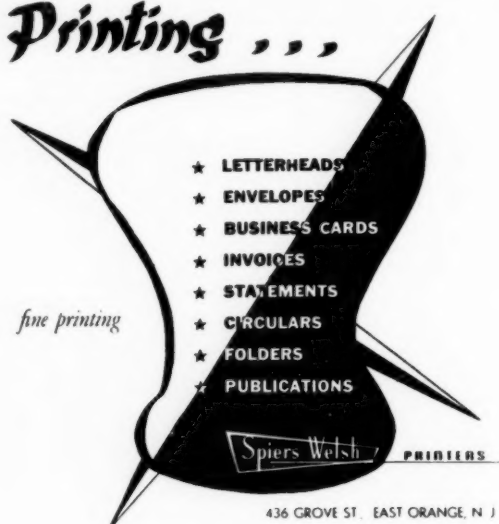

If there are any questions about bidding or running an auction, please write your editor. I'll be happy to help you out. Like everything else, there have been unethical procedures, errors and misunderstandings made. Any complaints should be forwarded to the editor.

I HAVE JUST BOUGHT 3,000 MORE WOODEN NICKELS FOR OUR NEW MEMBERS, SO WE HAVE AN AMPLE SUPPLY ON HAND.

1800/1790 Cent Variety

Mr. Riley of Benton, Kentucky reports having a 1890 large cent V.G. genuine mint product. Large cent mintage was discontinued in 1857. Mr. Riley was kind enough to send it to me for inspection. It is an 1890 alright, but definitely an over date. A very nice piece to possess.

JUST ONE MAN'S OPINION

All comments of any particular coin that are mentioned in this Ad are just the opinion of the advertiser and my knowledge of coins is no greater than what all collectors and dealers have been able to learn throughout the years that have passed.

CARSON CITY DOLLARS

My Volume of Sales on this Series more than doubled in March over February. As I have mentioned in previous ads the prices on the CC dollars are the lowest in many years and in my opinion now is the time to buy. Just take a minute and check the low number issued on each of every one. There was only 13 years they were made and the total number minted on all 13 dates was less than 14 million. The largest of any one date was the 1890 when they minted 2,309,041 and the smallest issue was 1885 with 228,000. There surely can't be too many available in Brilliant Uncirculated Condition.

I will not guarantee the following prices after May 15th.

		Single	Rolls			Single	Rolls
1878	CC	2.50	45.00	1884	CC	4.25	60.00
1879	CC	6.00		1885	CC	5.00	80.00
1880	CC	6.00	100.00	1890	CC	4.00
1881	CC	5.00	80.00	1891	CC	4.00
1882	CC	4.00	60.00	1892	CC	4.00	65.00
1883	CC	4.00	60.00	1893	CC	15.00

Usual bag handling marks

I NEED 1000 OF THE 1889 CC BRILLIANT UNC. DOLLARS. I WILL ALLOW $35.00 EACH FOR THEM IN TRADE ON ANY OF THE CARSON CITY DOLLARS I LIST IN THIS AD.

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE IF MY COINS ARE NOT AS ADVERTISED.

Bank Wrapper Rolls not sorted ..... 1.75
Rolls that are scratched, etc. but strictly Unc. .... 1.25

THE 1955 PHILADELPHIA NICKEL AND DIME

I highly recommended when they both could be obtained at a small amount over face. Following is a notation from several of my previous Ads.

A MONTHLY TIP TO COLLECTORS

The 1955 Nickel and Dime Philadelphia Mint look like a good buy at reasonable price. The Nickel, as close as I can check, is the smallest coinage since 1894 and the dime since 1931.

1955-P NICKEL $7.75 PER ROLL

1955 P.D. & S. Dimes $7.25

OR THE 3 ROLLS FOR $21.00

Facts About U. S. Money

3rd Article of a series

The $100,000 denomination is a gold certificate issued only to Federal Reserve Banks. It does not enter into circulation.

No letters, numbers, or symbols of any of the currency issued under the authority of the United States has any sectarian significance whatsoever.

Yellow Seal and Hawaiian Series

United States silver certificates printed with the Treasury seal in yellow, rather than the usual blue were used in the initial stages of our military operations in North Africa and Sicily. The distinctive seal was adopted to facilitate isolation of the currency in event that military reverses caused any substantial amounts to fall into enemy hands. Denominations issued were $1, $5, and $10.

Circulation of the yellow seal currency was confined for some time to the military zones of operation, but subsequently restrictions against its circulation in the United States were removed. Except for the yellow seal, it is identical with other United States money of the same type.

Currency bearing the word "Hawaii" as an overprint and having the Treasury Seal in brown, was used in the Islands and in certain Pacific military operations. This currency now is permitted to circulate freely in the United States. The issues were $1 silver certificates and $5, $10, and $20 San Francisco Federal Reserve Notes.

Star Notes

The Treasury frequently is asked the significance of the star that appears in front of the serial number of some pieces of United States currency.

When a note is mutilated in the course of manufacturing it has to be replaced. To replace it with a note of exactly the same number as that on the imperfect specimen would require the use of a special machine, and would be costly and delaying. In consequence, "star" notes are substituted. Except that they have their own serial number and a star, these notes are the same as the others, and, of course, worth only the face value. On United States notes and silver certificates, the star is substituted for the prefix letter; on Federal Reserve notes, for the suffix letter.

A "star" note also is issued for the 100,000,000th note in a series since eight digits are the maximum practicable in the mechanical operation of numbering machines.

HUMOR NOTES

Horse trainer: Just before the last big race, I gave my horse a stiff hooker of whiskey.

An Actual Humor Story

Attending a swimming party with my family, my 3 year old daughter Jennifer would not be persuaded to come out of the pool. Suddenly it started to thunder. I then tried cautioning her. "Did you hear the thunder up there? it's going to rain! you had better come out." She replied, looking up at the sky, "Oh that's only Goddie moving the furniture around!"

FREE GUESSING CONTEST

Meet your contest chairman, center in photo, Tommy Spadone and his assistants, Jennifer and Dennis, sister and brother. Between us we have decided to give three proof sets (1956) to the 3 persons who can guess the number of B.U. Lincoln Cents piled on the above desk. Write your number on a letter or post-card and send to the editor or contest chairman, Tommy Spadone. One and all can submit a guess, but, only one guess per person. In case of a tie the earliest postmark to prevail. Join the fun and see if you can be one of the lucky winners. See how close you can guess to the exact number. Closing date of contest is the 20th of June. Winners will be announced in our July 1st issue. Remember this is free and anyone can enter. Good luck to all of you. Incidentally, Mrs. Spadone had quite a time persuading our chairman to get away from the pile of cents. I guess he just likes his job. (Smile)

Dear Mr. Spadone:

Just a few words to say that I think your paper is a "comer" and that is expressing the opinion of other collectors who have been corresponding with me in response to my ad. Each month the response is greater and results are good.

Sure got a nice shipment of civil war tokens from this last months ad. Showed them to Roy Lawrence editor of a leading coin publication and said he had never seen so many at one time in his lifetime of coin dealing. Speaks well for advertising in your paper doesn't it?

Ralph Wilson
Atkins, Iowa

LETTERS OF COMMENTS

Editor of the Flying Eaglet:

Dear sir, having been away I am rushing this ad, if too late I will be quite disappointed as I intend to run ads for awhile on small cents. I have about 2,500 and getting more. I was glad to get my paper on arriving home, I believe the Flying Eaglet can be of great service to the beginners and will become very popular with the beginner if they get to feel it is a measure championing their cause. A must to the beginner is to get from the Director of all Mints for 15 cents a book of all mintages from origination (All Mints). Read Dr. Sheldons Toward Science of cents value. Page 28-9 in his valuable book on cents 1793 to 1814. This is an honest to God book from the hand of an honest to God gentleman whom for the love of his hobby has given of his very active life and very pressing duties to help you and I. Coin collectors are in need of another Dr. Sheldon for cents 16 to 1857. These words are unsolicited and given only in hopes it may help. As the book is meant to deliver real facts and values.

I have never had the pleasure of meeting "Dr. Sheldon."

James J. Rooney

Dear Mr. Spadone:

We wish to thank you for the nice set up you did in our recent advertisement in your journal. This was the finest, most well balanced advertisement we have had for quite sometime. Am sure you will be as pleased as we were when we inform you that the advertisement was very profitable and successful as to the orders we received from same. Our only regret, we should have had extra copies run on same.

OFFER IS EXTENDED

Below is last issues article of our anniversary offer. I did not mention whether value was to be face or catalog. My meaning was to be of catalog value. I received numerous inquiries to this affect, so if in doubt it's catalog exchange value. This offer is extended through the month of May. Let me hear from you.

I am going to offer for April only, a chance to all interested, to subscribe and take advantage of the 25 monthly advertising wording, by sending me anything of numismatic value for the same price of a subscription and if you like our 25 advertising monthly wording. Here is your chance to get rid of those odds and ends laying around gathering dust, and, in exchange receive 12 monthly issues of coin exchange and up to date news of the coin world. For our present subscribers, if you have not taken advantage of the 25 advertising monthly wording, you are also eligible. This offer is for April only. Let's not wait; rush me those odds and ends! Remember, send me anything of numismatic value.

Your Editor.

QUESTION - ANSWER BO

Question

The so-called magnetic cents of 1943 - it is known some were struck in silver during the war years. How can you tell the difference between the two?

A. Mazzella

Answer

An ordinary magnet placed over the coin will grasp it, for its composition is steel. The magnet will have no effect on silver, copper, brass, gold, lead and a few other metals.

—o—

Question

How can you tell the difference between type 1 and type 2, 1913 buffalo nickels.

W Boeckley

Answer

Type 1, the buffalo is standing on a mound. Type 2 is standing on a plain, a leveled ground.

—o—

Question

Were there any 50 cent commemoratives issued in 1955 and are they planning any for the future?

B. Aikenhead

Answer

No. These issues are authorized periodically and are turned over to a commission authorized by congress which sells them at a premium. At present there is no hint of a new issue.

—o—

Question

I would like to know if I can photograph my coin and currency collection in whole or part for display purposes rather than risk the lost or damage to them?

R. Rennick

Answer

As far as I can learn, at present you can do so, but in order to photograph currency you must have permission from the Federal Bureau.
